UPDATE: 20TH FEBRUARY 2023

NATIONAL TEAM SELECTIONS FOR 19TH ASIAN GAMES HANGZHOU

1. RDAG Regionals: The RDAG Regionals has been postponed indefinitely by the organisers. When contacted, the organisers have advised that it will likely be postponed to June/July 2023. Official news on the exact competition dates have not been announced.
2. 19th Asian Games Team Singapore athletes: Singapore National Olympic Council (SNOC)'s nominations for Team Singapore athletes for the 19th Asian Games has started today. The deadline for nomination submissions by SGEA is 1st April 2023.

Nominations by SGEA for the 19th Asian Games

The RDAG Regionals was meant as a competition to determine the seeding and ranking of National Teams for the 19th Asian Games. Participation in the RDAG Regionals would have given the selected athletes and SGEA a better understanding of their standings within Asia. Additionally, due to the lack of regional competition participation for some of the athletes in the past 2 years, the RDAG Regionals would have provided the athletes an additional relevant competition record that is within the time frame of SNOC's selection criteria for the 19th Asian Games.

Due to the conflicting timeline of the RDAG Regionals and the nominations for the 19th Asian Games, it would not be possible for SGEA to nominate athletes based on the RDAG Regionals results. However, SGEA would like to provide all the athletes that have been selected for the RDAG Regionals the opportunity to be selected by SNOC to represent Singapore at the upcoming 19th Asian Games Hangzhou.

Hence, SGEA will be nominating ALL the athletes that were selected to represent Singapore for the RDAG Regionals, for the 19th Asian Games. Do note that SGEA's nomination does not guarantee that the athletes will be selected by SNOC to represent Singapore at the 19th Asian Games. All athletes that are nominated by SGEA will still need to pass SNOC's selection committee's review.
